If the complaint is particularly difficult it may take longer to finalise. In this case, the complainant must be kept informed regularly of the progress of the investigation.
- If the investigation reveals performance by an employee that is below the expectations or in breach of company policy or TfNSW regulations, a counselling process will be followed
- If the complaint highlights a problem within the systems used by Ogden's Coaches, routes or timetables. Management, TfNSW or both will be consulted as required
- The management will review complaints regularly, at least weekly, to check for trends or developing performance issues and ensure completion
- If the complaint is of a particularly serious nature or is not able to be resolved, TfNSW will be notified of the circumstances

Lost Children

Ogden's Coaches is committed to the welfare and safety of children travelling on buses. Our objective is to reunite any child that becomes lost on our network with their parent or guardian and as a last resort Police or school staff. Operations staff and drivers are trained on methods of identifying lost or confused children on our network. In the event of a child becoming lost, the following procedure will take place to ensure their safety.

If a child has boarded the incorrect bus (Large Depot)

- On discovering a child is on the incorrect bus the driver will notify the depot via two way radio or mobile phone
- Office staff will assist the driver to identify the child
- Office will arrange for the child to be transferred to the correct bus or arrange for a parent / guardian to meet the bus
- If the child is not able to be identified and the bus is close to the school, the bus will return to the school with the child for assistance by the school.
- If the child is a long way from the school and, or no parent / guardian can be located the child is to be returned to the depot

- Office staff will then resolve the situation with either parents / guardians, school assistance or in a last resort the NSW Police will be contacted
- At all times lost children will be cared for by staff who are cleared for "working with young people"
- All occasions of children becoming lost on buses are to be reported as an incident so tracking of trends, network and driver performance can be monitored

If a child has boarded the incorrect bus (Small Depot)

- On discovering a child is on the incorrect bus the driver will notify the depot via mobile phone or the school from where the child is enrolled. The driver may also call other buses via UHF radio to ascertain which bus the child should be on.
- The depot, school or other drivers will assist in identifying the child
- Office, school or driver will arrange for the child to be transferred to the correct bus or arrange for a parent / guardian to meet the bus
- If the child is not able to be identified and the bus is close to the school, the bus will return to the school with the child for assistance by the school
- If the child is a long way from the school and, or no parent / guardian can be located, the child is to return to the depot with the driver at the completion of the run
- The relevant after hour's manager will be contacted to assist in locating the parent / carer of the child.
- If no parent / carer is able to be located, assistance from the NSW Police will be requested. The child will remain with the driver until a suitable arrangement can be made.

Dealing with Emergencies

- Emergencies will be dealt with in accordance with the Bus Industry Confederations "Bus and Coach Operators Incident Management Guidelines" March 2004 (Reviewed and updated 2012) or any successor document
